ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

[0125] A method and apparatus to manage a plurality of devices is described. The apparatus comprises a control server to generate a job to update a device, and a control point to establish a secure communication with the control server, and to receive the job. The control point further to establish communication with the device in accordance with a maintenance schedule, and to update the device using the JobScript found within the job.

Express Mail Label No. EV339920017US